Information on website and reporting

If the information listed on the website is also provided in writing, then the written version is determinative in case of textual differences. PKF does not guarantee that emails or other electronic messages sent to them are received and processed in a timely manner and does not accept liability for consequences of not receiving or processing this, or doing so too late.

Cookies

PKF uses functional and analytical cookies. A cookie is a small text file which is stored at the first visit to this website in the browser of your computer, tablet or smartphone. PKF uses cookies with a purely technical functionality.

These ensure that the website works properly and, for example, that your preferred settings are remembered. These cookies are also used to make the website function well and to optimise it. In addition, we place cookies that track your browsing behaviour in order to further optimise our website. These keep track of which pages you visit. The information generated by the cookie regarding your use of the website can be transferred to the private secured servers of PKF or those of a third party.

At your first visit to our website we already informed you about these cookies and asked for permission for its placement. You can opt out of cookies by changing the settings of your internet browser so that it no longer saves cookies. In addition, you can also remove all information that was previously stored through the settings of your browser.

Complaint

If you have a comment or complains about noting your personal information or displaying a photo of you/your products on our website, then we would like to ask you to contact us directly on this matter.
